HOW COULD MY CHILD GET HELP IN SCHOOL?

Students in school will get support that is specific to their individual needs. This may be all provided by the class teacher but it may involve other staff in the school. In some cases support will come from staff who are commissioned by the school, such as the Speech and Language Therapist, Counsellor, or from the Local Authority central services such as the Sensory Service (for students with a hearing or visual need), Educational Psychology team or Child and Adolescent Mental Health team.

What are the different types of support available for students with SEND or AEN in this school?

1. Class teacher input via high quality targeted classroom teaching

- Each class teacher has the highest possible expectations for your child and all students in their class.
- All teaching is based on building on what your child already knows, can do and can understand.
- Teachers will use different ways of teaching so that your child is fully involved in learning in class. This may involve using more practical or visual learning or providing adapted resources.
- Teachers will use a range of strategies (which may be suggested by the SENDCO or outside experts) to support your child to learn.

Who?

- All students in the school should be getting this.

2. Specific interventions possibly involving a smaller group of students. This might include pre-teaching / over-teaching sessions, revision classes, a reduced timetable or a mentoring session with their Personal Coach.

- Your child's teachers will have carefully checked on your child's progress and will have decided that your child has gaps in their understanding/learning and needs some extra support to help them make the best possible progress.
- Teachers will use specific strategies (which may be suggested by the SENDCO or outside experts) to support your child to learn.
- The SEND team / Curriculum teams will plan interventions with targets to help your child to make more progress.
- These interventions may be delivered by a teacher or Personal Coach and may take place inside or outside the classroom. They are likely to be short term.

Who?

- Any student who has specific gaps in their understanding of a subject/area of learning.
- They have been identified by the class teacher as needing some extra support in school

3. More specialised and possibly longer term intervention which is likely to involve advice / action from external professionals either in or out of school. This might include small group or 1:1 work, Social, Life or Independence work, Therapeutic interventions and programmes, exam access arrangements, an alternative curriculum or providing specific resources

- Your child will have been identified by the class teacher/SENDCO (or you will have raised your worries) as needing more specialised input instead of or in addition to excellent class room teaching and intervention groups.
- You will have opportunities to meet with relevant staff to discuss your child's progress and help plan the next stage.
- The school may suggest that your child needs some agreed individual or small group support in school. They will discuss with you what strategies will be put in place.
- You may be asked to give your permission for the school to refer your child to a specialist professional e.g. a Speech and Language Therapist or Educational Psychologist. This will help the school and yourself understand your child's particular needs better and be able to support them more effectively in school.
- The specialist professional will work with your child and may ask to meet with you to understand their needs and make recommendations. This may include:
  1. Making changes to the way your child is supported in class e.g. some individual support or changing some aspects of teaching to support them better
  2. Support to set better targets which will include their specific expertise
  3. A group run by school staff under the guidance of the outside professional
  4. A group or individual working with an outside professional

- Your child will be placed on the SEND register and his/her progress will be monitored against specific targets.

Who?

- Students whose learning needs continue. The class teacher / SENDCO has identified that your child is still not making expected progress despite high quality whole class teaching and relevant intervention.

4. Specific individual support for your child. This is usually provided via an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHCP). This means your child will have been identified as needing a particularly high level of individual support. Expected progress has not been made despite appropriate interventions from the school or your child may require specialist support or therapy in school to enable them to access the curriculum. This may involve a professional from outside the school. This may be from:

- Local Authority central services such as the Sensory Service (for students with a hearing or visual need)
- Outside agencies such as the Speech and Language therapy (SALT) Service.
- The school (or you) can request that the Local Authority carry out a statutory assessment of your child's needs.
- After the school have sent in the request to the Local Authority (with a lot of information about your child, including some from you), a decision will be made about the statutory assessment. If it is agreed you, your child and all professionals involved with your child will work together to provide information which may result in your child having an Education, Health and Care Plan. If the Local Authority does not agree to a statutory assessment of your child's needs, they will ask the school to continue to support, monitor and review progress.
- The EHC Plan will outline the long and short term outcomes for your child and the provision which needs to be made for your child.
- The additional money given to the school may be used to support your child with whole class learning, to provide individual programmes, run small groups which include your child or provide specialist equipment to allow your child to access the classroom and learning.

Who?

- Students whose learning needs are severe, complex and enduring.

HOW CAN I LET THE SCHOOL KNOW I AM CONCERNED ABOUT MY CHILD'S PROGRESS?

- If you have concerns about your child's progress you should speak to your child's Personal Coach or Prep Tutor initially. You can do this by telephone or email.
- You can also make contact with the SEND Lead- Charlie Young.
- If you are not happy that the concerns are being managed and that your child is still not making progress you should speak to the Trust SENDCO: Ms D Botha.

- If you are not happy with this response please contact the SEND Governor, Mr S Cooper.

HOW WILL THE SCHOOL LET ME KNOW IF THEY HAVE ANY CONCERNS ABOUT MY CHILD'S LEARNING IN SCHOOL?

- All your child's teachers review his/her progress once every term and this information is then shared with you setting out where your child is working at in all their different subjects. You are invited into school to meet with your child's Prep Tutor and once a year with your child's subject teachers. There is also an opportunity for you to meet with SEND staff.
- In school following these data collections progress meetings are held to discuss any students that are not making expected progress and to put interventions into place to address this. You may be contacted to discuss your child's progress and alert you to a specific concern.
- If your child continues to be identified as not making progress across a range of subjects the school will meet with you to discuss this with you in more detail. At the meeting:
  1. We will listen to any concerns you may have
  2. We will plan any additional support your child may receive
